AUTO MISHAP ON ROUTE 30 LANDS KOCH IN COURT

Lee Center Man Fined; Other Accused in This Vicinity

Floyd Koch, living east of Lee Center, was arrested by State Police Monday morning following an automobile accident which occurred on route 30 west of the Pine Hill corners, and in Police Magistrate James E. Bales court, the officer preferred a charge of being intoxicated on a public highway. The court assessed a fine of $10 and costs and ordered that Koch pay all damages resulting from the crash.

Koch was reported to have been driving west on the new highway when he fell asleep after the gasoline supply became exhausted in his car which he parked on the paving. About 2 o'clock Sunday morning, a car driven by Joseph George of Portland, Ore., with Miss Dorothy Westfield of Sycamore as a passenger, crashed into the rear of the parked machine. Miss Westfield suffered a broken bone in her foot and was also bruised about the body. She was removed to the office of a physician at Amboy where her injuries were dressed, and later taken to her home.

Five Hurt in Crash
Two cars were almost completely demolished and five persons were injured in a head-on collision seven miles east of Dixon on U. S. route 330 at 12:30 o'clock this morning, the victims being taken to the Dixon public hospital by State Officer Edward Mahan where their injuries were dressed, after which they were released.

According to the police report, John Rybeck of Sterling was driving west, returning to Sterling from Maple Park, when he fell asleep, his car swerving across the paving head-on into an east-bound machine driven by Joe Chybik of Chicago. Miss Grace Hohenese of Chicago, sustained a broken bone in her left foot and a deep gash across the face. Dale Byers and Tom Covelli, also of Chicago, who were passengers in the Chybik car, were also cut and bruised. The two wrecked cars were hauled to a Dixon garage.

Guy Shaver Injured
Guy Shaver, 21 E. First street, suffered lacerations about the face, the loss of several teeth, and numerous bruises when he fell asleep while driving his automobile from Rockford to Dixon at about 2 o'clock Sunday morning, the car leaving the highway about three miles north of Oregon and crashing into a tree. He was able to extricate himself from the wreckage and was picked up shortly afterwards by Arthur Rosier of this city, who took him to Oregon, where a physician dressed his injuries. The car was badly damaged.

Prison Slayer Begins Fight for His Release

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 25.—(AP)—James E. Day, slayer of Richard Loeb in Stateville prison in 1936, began a legal fight in the state supreme court today for his release from the state penitentiary at Pontiac.

Day asked leave of the court to file a habeas corpus petition questioning the authority of prison officials to continue his imprisonment under a larceny charge on which he was sentenced to an indeterminate one to ten year term in 1932.

Day's petition contended that, although he was acquitted of a murder charge in the Loeb slaying, prison officials have "without authority of law" refused to allow him time off for good behavior.

The petition, filed by Attorney Jay J. McCarthy of Chicago, said Day should have been released May 19, 1938.

9,434 Men to Be Called For Service This Week

Washington, Nov. 25.—(AP)—The nation's draft program called for enrolling 1,932 military trainees today with a total of 9,434 men to be called during this week for active army service.

All Army Corps areas except the first at Boston, the ninth at San Francisco and the fourth at Atlanta were called upon to supply manpower as part of the national defense program. The First and Ninth Corps areas already have filled their quotas of draftees for 1940, and the Fourth Corps area will be called upon for 3,283 men between December 3 and 13.

By the end of this week army plans provide for having mustered 16,887 draftees into service.

Corps areas in which draftees are being inducted this week are the second at New York, third at Baltimore, fifth at Columbus, Ohio; sixth at Chicago, seventh at Omaha, and eighth at San Antonio.

Highways May be Coated With Ice by Tuesday Morn

Chicago, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Forecaster R. E. Gumpf predicted that general rains would begin tonight and spread throughout the north-central district east of the Dakotas by tomorrow, as an offshoot of the week-end's torrential downpours in Texas.

The precipitation would start with snow in northern Illinois if the temperature is near freezing tonight, he said, adding a warning that in that case northwest Illinois highways might be coated temporarily with a freezing glaze.

Gumpf said that condition, if it occurs at all, would not last long because the temperature would rise sufficiently to keep the precipitation in the form of rain. However, snow was probable in northern Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota tomorrow.

TEXAS PANHANDLE HIT
Dallas, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Meager reports from ice-bound Amarillo today said a freezing rain had stopped there, promising some relief from the storm which isolated that city and other communities in the Panhandle.

Highways and streets were littered with poles, wires and trees while utility company repair crews struggled to restore disrupted communication lines. Amarillo has spoken only intermittently with the outside world, by short-wave radio, since a growing sheath of ice mantled the area.

Radio amateurs from Lubbock and Dallas reported they found it necessary to relay messages by way of Hawaii, and points as far east as West Virginia, to Amarillo. Last night Amarillo was virtually without power or water.

Christmas Seals Sale Begins in Dixon Today

Dixon has received its allotment of campaign material in preparation for the thirty-fourth annual Christmas Seal campaign for the prevention and control of tuberculosis. Mary K. Lucey, executive secretary, explained that the campaign finances the year-round educational movement against tuberculosis. Local Girl Scouts are giving much helpful service in mailing out the material.

Committee headquarters will be the scene of great activity from now until the close of the campaign which opened today. The seals this year are particularly gay and bright, E. A. Jones, president said, and will add a distinct decorative note to Christmas mail. "The Christmas Seal cannot be considered a drain on any pocket-book," President Edward Jones of the Lee County Tuberculosis association said today. "For more than 30 years they have helped steadily to cut the death rate from tuberculosis. This year there is great need to assure the continuance of a sound anti-tuberculosis drive."

FIRST HAND ACCOUNT
(Editor's Note: Bill Wilson, of the Amarillo Globe News staff, telephoned the following first-hand account of the Amarillo ice storm to The Associated Press from Plainview, after an 80-mile drive over icy highways from the Texas Panhandle city.)

By BILL WILSON
Written for The United Press
Amarillo, Tex., Nov. 25.—(By telephone from Plainview.)—We are ice-bound for at least 50 miles in all directions.

We have been without electricity since 10 o'clock Sunday morning. We slip on slide on ice-coated sidewalks and steps, but life goes on at an amazingly normal pace despite the peculiar weather quirk.

Commandment Heeded

Clemson, S. C., Nov. 25.—(AP)—On a study table, accessible to 2,300 Clemson College cadets, is a perfectly good dollar bill.

Cadet Theo. Tsiropoulos put it there as an experiment a month ago. No one has touched it.

A neatly printed note beside the money says: "Thou shalt not steal."

Season of Christmas Will Arrive in Dixon With Santa Claus Friday Morn

The pre-Christmas season will reach its height in Dixon Friday morning, when Santa Claus pays a special visit to the kiddies of this city and surrounding community.

Children, the merchants and the entire city, as well as hundreds of out-of-town visitors will be on hand to welcome the beloved bringer of gifts at 9 o'clock, Nov. 29, when he is scheduled to arrive with his reindeer and his regular crew of helpers.

Would Outlaw All Strikes Against U. S. Government

Washington, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Representative Cox (D-Ga.), asserting that "strikes against the government" were the "most shameful thing that has happened in this country in a long time," proposed today that Congress outlaw all such strikes during the "emergency period."

He told the House membership, assembled outside the Capitol for the first time since 1857, that "labor racketeers" were responsible for the strikes.

"I am wondering," he said, "if Congress does not have the vitality or the real courage to take notice of what is happening to this country and do something in an effort to remedy it."

The House had no business before it, and the session was devoted to speeches on various subjects. The meeting was held in the ways and means committee room of one of the two House office buildings because of repairs being made to the Capitol roof.

In Hallowed Chamber

The Senate, likewise, vacated its chamber and moved into another room of the Capitol, the one in which the Senate met in the early days of the republic and which was occupied later by the Supreme court.

Senators were seated in the semi-circular rows before the long desk behind which the chairs of the nine court justices still stood. Senator King (D-Utah), presiding officer, occupied the massive chair formerly occupied by the Chief Justice.

Behind the Senators, newspapermen sat on horse-hair benches. In the last row there was room for about 50 spectators.

Senator Hattie Caraway (D-Ark.) sat among her Democratic colleagues, the first woman to serve as a senator in the hallowed chamber where Daniel Webster, Henry Clay and other earlier statesmen saw service.

Federal Jury Obtains Records of the Better Government Association

Chicago, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Records of the Better Government Association, which a special committee of the United States Senate tried without success to obtain last month, were turned over to a Federal grand jury today.

The grand jurors are seeking to determine whether there were any violations of Federal laws in the Nov. 5 general election, and while the association is not suspected of any complicity, its files were deemed necessary to complete certain phases of the inquiry.

It was the Better Government Association which succeeded in bringing the Senate committee to Chicago to look into charges of wholesale vote fraud. Senator Hill (D-Ala.), chairman of the committee, asked for a list of its contributors, but he was refused on the ground the contributors might suffer reprisals. Hill expressed indignation at what he termed lack of co-operation on the part of the association, but he did not subpoena the records.

Illuminated Sign to Direct Traffic to Dixon

Above is shown Sign-Artist John Kramer's drawing of the huge illuminated sign which the Dixon Chamber of Commerce will soon erect on an acre of ground it recently purchased at the intersection of U. S. route 30 and 52, north of Amboy to advertise Dixon and direct traffic to this city off the new U. S. 30, which will soon proceed directly west from that intersection to Agnew, east of Morrison, where it will connect with the present U. S. 30. The sign, 62 feet long and 25 feet high, will be neon lighted at night, and is a part of the city-advertising program of the Chamber of Commerce.

"Together"

Pittsburgh, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Gus Sollars, 71, blind and deaf, and his 70-year-old crippled wife lived together for 30 years and vowed they "would go out together."

Mrs. Sollars put her crutch aside during the week-end, dropped into her bed in a second-floor room and died while Gus held her hand.

"She's not dead," Gus sobbed to kindly neighbors. "She's not dead. I know. We're going together."

He collapsed while approaching his wife's bier at a funeral home and died of a cerebral hemorrhage.

Warship Cruising West Indian Near Neutrality Zone

New York, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Somewhere in West Indian waters a belligerent raider cruised today after bringing the war at sea to the outskirts of the Pan-American neutrality zone.

At a point about 500 miles northeast of Puerto Rico, the raider invaded a crossroads of Great Britain's sea lanes yesterday and shelled the 9,430-ton British freighter Port Hobart.

The attack was made about 75 miles outside the neutrality belt at a point where British ships from South America converge with those from the Panama Canal.

Two brief messages from the victim, picked up here by MacKay Radio 25 minutes apart, said first that the Port Hobart had sighted "a suspicious vessel" and then that she was "being shelled by the raider."

The fate of the freighter and the identity of its attacker was then blanketed in silence.

Shipping circles advanced the theory that the latter might be one of Germany's two known pocket battleships or one of a dozen fast new Nazi freighters believed to have been armed and dispatched into the Atlantic to prey upon British shipping.

Presence of at least one other enemy raider operating in the Atlantic was indicated yesterday when the two vessels reported they had been torpedoed and a third radioed she had sighted "a suspicious vessel" 500 miles west of Ireland.

Secretary Perkins Has Not Resigned Cabinet Post, Says Sec. Early

Washington, Nov. 25.—(AP)—The White House said today that Frances Perkins, secretary of Labor, had not submitted her resignation and "the president has not discussed resignation with her."

This assertion came from Stephen Early, press secretary, when asked for comment on a story in the New York Times that Miss Perkins had tendered her resignation and Roosevelt had accepted it.

Early was asked by newsmen whether Perkins, first woman cabinet member and an appointee to the original Roosevelt cabinet in 1933, would continue in her present capacity during the president's third term.

"I don't know anything about continuation or any other phase of it," the presidential secretary replied.

Portuguese Ship Brings War Refugees to U. S.

New York, Nov. 25.—(AP)—The little Portuguese steamer Guine, completing its first Atlantic crossing, docked today at Staten island with 156 passengers, most of them refugees from war zones.

The 2,648-ton ship sailed Nov. 12 from Lisbon after converting nearly all available space into sleeping quarters for passengers. She brought little cargo.

Customs inspectors permitted no one to leave or board the ship until a complete inspection had been made.

"High Heels" Kirby Seeks to Break Another Precedent of Long Standing

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 25.—(AP)—James T. (High Heels) Kirby of Petersburg, who served one term in the state legislature and since has run for various elective offices, today came out as a candidate for president.

"I hereby announce my candidacy for president of the United States before the Electoral College on their convening Dec. 16, 1940, for the purpose of electing a man (or woman) to that office," Kirby said in a statement.

Kirby held that presidential electors were not bound to follow the November 5 election returns

Britain's Chief Port of Entry from United States German Bombers' Target

Europe's tragedy has produced numerous stirring events during my fortnight's absence from this column on vacation, but despite Herr Hitler's much advertised political "successes" and the terrific wallowing administered to Signor Mussolini's legions by the Greco-British forces, I can't see that the general position has altered greatly.

Viewing these occurrences from the detached tranquility of the charming colonial farm-house which is the country home of mine host Josh Horne, distinguished publisher of the Rocky Mount (N. C.) Telegram, I should say that on the face of it Britain's position has rather improved.

That smashing Italian defeat matters considerably, both morally and materially, and should raise England's stock in southeastern Europe. The adherence of Hungary, Rumania and Slovakia to the axis adds little new, but merely confirms Hitler's previous success with his big stick. He already dominated these countries and they had to submit.

However, my estimate is made without being able to know what is in the undoubtedly worried mind of Muscovite leader Stalin—and that's important. He's on a tough spot, but whether he will find it profitable to jump toward Britain or toward Germany, or remain neutral, is something which probably even he hasn't determined yet.

In this connection it is worthy of note that Turkey, which must be guided largely by Moscow, has warned ambitious Bulgaria not to join the axis and not to attack Yugoslavia or Greece. This presupposes some encouragement from Russia.

In considering the situation as whole I have been much interested in the hotly debated interview attributed by a reporter of the Boston Globe to Ambassador Joseph Kennedy, who is home from his post as American envoy to London. Kennedy was quoted as saying that "democracy is finished in England" and that national socialism will be the result. Also it's "the bunk" that Britain is "fighting for democracy" since "she's fighting for self-preservation just as we will if it comes to us."

His excellency took exception to this interview. He said that he thought the conversation was based on "an off the record discussion" and that many of the statements quoted "were inaccurate."

In this connection, it was recalled that last week a high source in Sofia, capital of Bulgaria, said soviet Russia "advised" Bulgaria not to join the totalitarian bloc—although nazi-fascist quarters had

Indications arose meanwhile that little Bulgaria—whose 200-mile-wide kingdom is all that separates nazi troops from Greece—may have scorned German pressure to join the axis-ruled "European bloc against Britain."

Informed quarters in Berlin made the surprising disclosure that the signatures of Hungary, Rumania and tiny Slovakia to the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo pact ended the present series of acquisitions to the axis.

5,000 MEN IN BIG NAVY YARD WERE SEARCHED TODAY

Special Officers Sent to Boston Plant on Report of Threat

Boston, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Marines searched today 5,000 day shift workmen nearby at Boston's big navy yard while a large detail of police stood guard as a result of a report that an attempt would be made to bring a time bomb or dynamite into the yard.

A squad of 75 police, 30 in plain clothes, were rushed to the yard, where several destroyers are under construction and others are being fitted out in round-the-clock shifts, after Captain Bernard Graham, night police superintendent, received a hurry-up call for aid from the yard. Graham quoted a navy yard spokesman, whom he did not identify, as saying that:

"Information has been received from a most authoritative source that an attempt would be made at 7 A. M. by a navy yard workman to bring in a time bomb or a quantity of dynamite when he went to work."

No Explosives Found
An additional detail of 25 officers was hurried to the yard shortly after dawn. No trace of an explosive had been found after the greater part of the day shift had reported for work.

Marines conducted the actual examination as police stood by keeping the workmen in line and maintaining order. The navy yard has been under a tight guard for several months.

The marines examined both clothes and lunch boxes, and inspected workmen's cars closely.

The navy yard has been the scene recently of two small fires, one in a storehouse and the other in scaffolding around a destroyer under construction. Neither did serious damage, and in both cases the navy discounted the possibility of sabotage and ascribed their cause to spontaneous combustion and an accident.

CIO UNIONIST PROTEST

Downey, Calif., Nov. 25.—(AP)—Amid vigorous union denials that the Vultee aircraft factory strike was of Communist origin, union leaders and company officials called another conference with government conciliators today.

CIO unionists have telegraphed protests to U. S. Attorney General Robert Jackson, who said in Washington that a confidential FBI report to defense officials showed that Communist influence "caused and is prolonging" the Vultee strike.

The strike, affecting the employment of 5,200 persons and halting rush orders on an undischarged number of military airplanes, was called November 15 in an effort to force the company to increase its minimum pay from 50 cents an hour to 75.

Opposing leaders have reported satisfactory adjustment of the wage demand but say current differences concern stipulations in a two-year contract, offered by the company, for no further strikes and for compulsory arbitration.

Wyndham Mortimer, international representative of the Automobile Workers' Union, wired Jackson that "Vultee strikers resent your statement reflecting on our loyalty and Americanism."

PROPOSES REMEDY
Washington, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Legislation designed to prevent labor unions from requiring membership of workers engaged in national defense production was proposed today by Representative Hoffman (R-Mich.).

For violations, Hoffman would provide fines up to $1,000 or imprisonment up to a year. His measure was entitled "the right to work act of 1940."

Preliminary paragraphs of the measure said a strike at the Vultee Aircraft Company, Downey, Calif., was delaying an $84,000,000 defense order.

Indictments Against Young Crabbs Stricken

Pekin, Ill., Nov. 25.—(AP)—Manslaughter and perjury indictments against the late James W. Crabbs, scion of a Tazewell county banking family, were stricken today by Judge Joseph Daily on motion of State's Attorney Rayburn Russell, who will retire from office Monday.

Bonds of $17,500 were released. Crabbs died several weeks ago in Detroit while the indictments were pending against him. He was indicted for manslaughter in connection with the fatal shooting of his young wife in Delavan, Ill., on March 1, 1938. The trial ended with a hung jury and Crabbs later was convicted of perjury, but the verdict was set aside by the Supreme court and a new trial was ordered.

Poet's Corner

FORMER DIXON VETERAN

Spanish-American War veterans of Dixon and vicinity, former members of Co. G, Sixth Infantry, I. N. G., will be interested in the following poem which appeared in a recent issue of the national Tribune, a veteran's publication. The writer Louis A. Clark will be remembered as a member of old Co. G, and during his residence in Dixon was associated with the late Freeman Robinson in conducting a laundry business. The poem follows:

Just a United Spanish War Vet
Dedicated to all comrades of the old 6th Ill. and Alhambra Camp, No. 41, U. S. W. V., by Louis A. Clark, Alhambra, Calif.

Just a U. S. W. V. of the days of "Ninety-eight"—

Am filled with heaps of memories a-longin' to relate;
When the awful news was spread-in' of sinkin' of the Maine,
Our feelin's rose to fever heat, and war was on with Spain.

With loyalty to country, with minds that did insist,
Men quickly rushed in every State, sure wantin' to enlist;
Regiments were recruited with brave and loyal boys,
Among them bein' one, the Sixth of Illinois.

In this regiment I enlisted, with spirit not in vain,
To make those Spaniards suffer for the sinkin' of the Maine;

And with Camp Alger's trainin' which was the very best,
The Sixth of Illinois, was soon fightin' with the rest.

In Cuba and Puerto Rico, with courage, shot and shell,
We had those Spaniards runnin' a-givin' 'em sure hell;
The time it took was triffin', but their surrender did make plain.

We had those "devils" pay in full for the sinkin' of the Maine.
After all was over, we returned in spirits gay,
To the homes of our enlistment, in the good old U. S. A.;

And now we all are comrades with brother-love in reign,
Each glad in heart he had taken part in the lickin' of old Spain.
Just a U. S. W. V. of the days of "Ninety-eight,"
Live now in California, that big and "bestest" state,
Midst comrades true and loyal, am belongin', proud to say,
To Camp 41—Alhambra—in this good old U. S. A.

Down-and-Outers Serve Humanity as Blood Donors

Chicago, Nov. 25 — (AP) — "Down-and-outers" on Chicago's west side are serving humanity — with blood.

Voluntarily they are giving their blood to prolong or save the lives of persons they have never seen before.

Some 50 "outcast transients" who have sought shelter from the world at the Chicago Christian Industrial League messon are the men who give.

Each is the proud possessor of a tiny gold pin inscribed with the simple legend, "I serve," and a certificate of valor attesting to their help to people in distress.

The pins and certificates are the gifts of the mission whose superintendent, the Rev. William Seath, reported today that about 75 pints of blood from the mission's men have been used since about a year ago when the "outcasts" first began to make their unusual donations.

Each donor is certified by a physician as being physically fit before being permitted to give blood.

Miracles Have Happened

"Miracles have happened to men since they started doing something for other people," said Mr. Seath. "And those with whom they have come in contact have benefitted spiritually as well as physically. It has been the means of putting a number of men back on the right track, of reuniting some of them with their families, or changing the courses of several lives. Call it a miracle if you want. It is a miracle."

"If you give a man a chance he can always do something worthwhile. I've been saying that for years. And what these men are doing now supports my contention."

A frantic call for help from a woman who had chosen the name of the league at random from the telephone book because it had the word "Christian" in it, started the strange chain of blood donors. Her husband was ill and in desperate need of a transfusion, but, she said:

"I have no money."
A former "down-and-outer" who answered the telephone told of the call, and three men immediately volunteered.

"The doctors said that the blood of the men prolonged their patients' life seven months," Mr. Seath asserted. "That was about a year ago. Since then we have been swamped with calls for blood and so far have managed to supply all of them."

Three-fifths of all the deaths from tuberculosis occur before the age of 45.

Wisconsin Scientists Report New Method of Studying Blood Disease

Chicago, Nov. 25 — (AP) — The development of a method of using naturally radioactive thorium as a "tracer" in the study of blood disease was reported by two University of Wisconsin scientists.

The report was made by Dr. E. A. Maxfield, an electrical engineer, and Dr. O. A. Mortensen, an anatomist, before the 237th meeting of the American Physical Society in session at the University of Chicago.

According to their report the use of radioactive substances makes possible an ingenious method for studying the manner in which certain cells of the body purify the blood stream of all foreign matter, such as bacteria, and thus guard the body against disease.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:
"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots who may resist the intrigues of the favorite are liable to become suspected and odious, while its tools and dupes usurp the applause and confidence of the people to surrender their interests." From the Farewell Address.

How Far Ahead Do They Plan?

One of the curses of this world is that governments plan for the immediate future, but not for the distant future.

A prime example of the truth of this theory is the present European war, and the same may be said of the World war preceding it. Neither side, in 1914, had a long-range view when they started fighting. The Kaiser was out for territorial expansion, but he took the worst possible way of securing it. The allies were out to protect themselves, which they did; but that protection was not permanent.

Again, in this war, Hitler wanted territorial advantages, but he neglected to learn that such advantages are of no permanent benefit without good will to accompany them. Again, in this war, others started defending themselves. In the war of 1914-18 they wanted to destroy kaiserism. This time they now represented by Britain and non-belligerent allies—want to destroy Hitlerism.

Or, take it the other way around. Hitler means to destroy what he calls democracy.

It is possible they may fight to a draw, with neither destroying the other—in which case there would be a trade war quite as devastating as military activity. It is more likely that one side or the other will win.

Suppose the British, with the help of non-belligerent allies, win this war. What do they intend to do after they win? A complete victory now, with the probability of another war for the generation now in infancy, would be hollow.

Or, suppose the Germans win. What do they intend to do afterward? A complete German victory with the prospect of revolution ahead would be meaningless. It might make Hitler and the rampant nazis happier for a few years—but in case of either a British or German victory, what about the common people, the little people in all lands, who suffer most from war?

In the old days war did not disturb the whole civilian population of belligerents. Today, as result of better communications and the additional drain of war, the whole of any fighting country suffers physically and economically even if it wins. War has become so terrible that even the most confirmed democracy must, apparently, give up its liberty in order to become efficient. To win victory for the sake of liberty, liberty must be endangered.

Would it be too much to hope that after this war is ended the affected countries will discuss a way to make war most improbable for the future? Victory is a small thing unless it guarantees security and freedom, not for just one country, but for all; not for the sake of ideologies, nor for spoils nor territory, but for the sake of the little people who suffer.

Hitler never had this vision. If the British have it, they have been too busy to discuss it. Their prime object now is to defend themselves, quite naturally and justly. Let us hope that if they win, with the help of non-belligerent allies or with whatever help may be accorded, a calmer statesmanship make take charge for the benefit of all ordinary people everywhere.

Peace Movement on a Diet

The Simon-pure, 100% pacifist has become almost as rare as the docto. To such a pass has Europe led the world that few indeed are the men and women who still feel that nothing is worth fighting for—that nothing is worse than war. The object lessons set up in Europe of things that definitely are worse than war are too impressive to be overlooked.

Thus it is that the peace movement, which flourished and waxed fat a few short years ago is on a slimming diet today and looks haggard and pale. The National Committee on the Cause and Cure of War is an example. For the past 15 years it has called together delegates from many groups in a national meeting. This year those groups are almost all having budgetary troubles, and the national meeting will simmer off into a few regional meetings.

To say this is not to say that the "peace movement" is dying. Most of the world is now at war gatherings.

But the problem of constructing a peaceful world, of building ways of living at peace, was never more important. No amount of past failures can kill this imperative urge to reduce the chance that in future the world's failure of 1914 and 1939 shall be repeated.

The Ambassador from Hollywood

Hollywood has been a journeying southward, and from its most recent trek it reports back with a stubbed toe.

Heavily embarked in some elaborate vehicles es-saying to portray life under the Southern Cross, Hollywood saw visions of increased sales in the South American market to replace in some part heavy losses in Europe. But the South Americans were amazed, shocked, irked, and even affronted at some of the Hollywood conceptions of them.

It is extremely difficult to portray to another nation its own life. Even the meticulously-supervised and beautifully-sympathetic life of Juarez did not get unanimous praise in Mexico. Less careful efforts got something very like the raz.

What the South Americans seem to like best is those strange North Americans portraying their own hectic lives—that an El Pato Pascual, known to you as Donald Duck.

SERIAL STORY

DUDE COLLEGE

BY OREN ARNOLD

YESTERDAY: Ronnie's sharp-shooting helps Officer Starr capture the men who had shot at her plane. Later, telling the story to Ronnie's father, Starr explains that the men were not aliens, but American citizens. Bailey believes they may have some interest in the bombing, and is to be held soon. Starr agrees.

WES IS UP IN THE AIR

CHAPTER VII

"I HAVE asked you to come in," Dr. Woodrow Wesley York was saying, "because it is a faculty ruling that we make a first-week check of our students. Miss Bailey, Pueblo University always maintains close touch with its registrants, to assist them in every way. Have you found your courses satisfactory? What you hoped they might be?"

"Oh, yes, Dr. York!" Ronnie Bailey had a way of saying, "Oh, yes." She emphasized the yes, made it a sound of enthusiasm and gratitude so that it was distinctly complimentary. Dr. York looked up from his record book at her.

"Ah—quite so," he murmured then, inadequately. Miss Bailey always distracted him.

"And Dr. York, I'm sorry I got myself talked about. Am I to be punished? Daddy said I ought to be skinned for—"

"Miss Bailey, you are regarded as an adult here, which of course you are. Pueblo does not punish. Of course, certain disciplinary measures have to be invoked from time to time, but your—ah—episode with the airplane and the Border Patrol was distinctly your own affair, and not reprehensible in the slightest, so far as I can see.

"Mr. Starr says that it demonstrates the need for additional autogiro planes in the border service. With only three autogiros now, more should be added as rapidly as—"

"Do you like to fly, Dr. York?" "I beg pardon?" He looked astonished. "I, myself?"

"Yes, Dr. York?" "Why, ah—no. That is, I have never been in—"

"Goodness, Dr. York, you ought to be ashamed! This isn't the covered wagon era. This is 1940!" "Quite so, Miss Bailey. But my scholastic pursuits—"

"Oh, pe-s-s-s-st!" She hissed at the idea, wrinkling her nose, then winked imperiously before she talked on. "Listen here, Dr. York, the kids all say you are very human, really."

"The older students say you are a swell sort if you'd let yourself be, and you're not broken down in years. Now listen—you're going flying with me—today!"

"Why, aw, Miss Bailey, I—"

"Come on! Classes are over for the day and it's still just 3:30. Come on, Dr. York! Don't be a droop!"

"A—droop." He echoed it. Droop. It was new in his vocabulary of recognized slang. Droop. Patently, one was not expected to be a droop, if one would exert proper influence over the students. And the university president had said that he, a very young Ph.D., should perhaps be closer to the student activities than any other faculty man. The thought of flying—and Miss Bailey's unmistakably charming manner and, ah, her lips—

"Good! I knew you'd go. It's too lovely an afternoon to waste in an office anyway. Now my car is right outside and—"

SHE maneuvered him as she might have bossed her plane itself, guiding him and making him like it. Before the scholarly young gentleman realized it he was skimming over the road at 60, and when he became rational, he was skimming over New Mexico at 160. In abject awe he looked down.

"Not over 4000 feet," she answered his thoughts, shouting in his ear. "Like it?" Her grin was impish.

"Oh, quite!" "Good! We'll coast some."

Sliding, loafing along up high motor idling, enabled them to talk more easily. Ronnie noted that his somewhat pale, indoorish skin had taken on a pink glow of exhilaration. Also, he had taken his glasses off.

"It's surprising how much different you look," she said. "I beg pardon?"

"Without your glasses, I mean. You look so much nicer. No, I don't mean that, Dr. York. I mean younger. Of course you look nice with them."

"I—ah, thank you. I—"

"What I mean is, you should get smaller frames, I think. These are too heavy. Do you have to wear them?"

"Only when I read, but one gets into a habit, and—"

"That's all of that, then. You start leaving them off."

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS
By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc. Reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, Nov. 24—Another sharp boost in taxes on everyone is in the offing.

Mr. Roosevelt has tapped the congressional tax committees on the shoulder and summoned them for a conference at the White House. House Chairman Robert Doughton went in for an advance talk last week and came out with an announcement that the government will need more money for defense. The private talk among his committeemen is running along the sensational line toward a 50 or 100 per cent increase in income taxes. Some want 150 per cent increase. Normal rate now is 4 per cent. A few think 10 per cent is needed. A majority seem currently to favor an increase to at least 6 or 8 per cent.

This method of tapping the private purses, big and little, through the normal rate is favored rather generally by New Dealers and congressmen alike. Sur-taxes on large incomes have already hit the height of maximum productivity. The normal rate hike would catch all incomes above $800 for single persons and $2,000 for married. There is no talk about lowering exemptions further.

Treasury too is itching to change the excess profits tax even though it will not go into effect until January 1. Official sentiment favors a flat 8 per cent exemption for profits and a heavy confiscatory tax on all corporate earnings above that figure.

The Germans have been getting away with devastation of Coventry and Birmingham for two reasons. The British depleted anti-aircraft defense of their industrial cities to provide utmost defense for the London area. This accounts for the Germans losing only 16 planes of the 500 which attacked Coventry in a seven and a half hour raid.

The other factor is that the Germans have perfected a staff system of hitherto unbelievable efficiency, enabling them to marshal at night as many as 500 bombers upon a single objective.

Yet few military men here believe the events forecast fatal consequences to the British cause. The weather is playing heavily in J. Bull's favor, will continue to do so until spring, when sufficient anti-aircraft may be available to go around.

Legislators who have had business with Roosevelt since election have found him unusually buoyant and determined to go ahead as a result of the election which he considered as a big victory. As a result of these reports the impression has been created generally that he is very strong for more reform.

The deal for the shipment of big bombers to Britain was held back by objections of the war and navy departments. They were satisfied, however, with the final arrangement which enabled them to get British-ordered engines for some of their own new ships. The defense services have acted as a constant restraint upon the diplomatic and executive branches in British aid with the result that the steps have assumed some semblance of mutual benefits.

The Dies committee, state and justice departments held back so long on making public the involvement of German diplomats in the Zapp case (published in detail in this column October 14, 15 and 16) because they were afraid of assuming responsibility for international reaction. Hitler's crowd had passed the word up inside that more American consuls would be expelled from Germany and occupied zones if his diplomatic agents here were exposed.

Dies committee finally decided on the unsensational method of publishing a white paper rather than the usual method of holding hearings and kept its fingers crossed against an expected storm of bad reaction.

Quiet sessions of Congress these days are not idle hour reveries, even though they do not produce exceptional news. Exactly 274 answers the last quorum call in the house, 57 more than a majority. No trouble will be encountered holding a quorum through until Christmas. Most of the members are content to remain here as they have their homes set up and their children in school.

Monogram stationery is something every woman likes. Come in now and select from our beautiful selection.

MONDAY'S WASH

Like the gubernatorial race in Kansas, Ed Worley's football predictions await the results of absentee ballots. Because of a change in schedule, the Stanford-California game will not be played until next week end. It was one of the 20 major conflicts which Predictor Worley listed for last Saturday. However, his results to date show 15 right and four wrong with a present percentage of 78.9. If his prediction on the Stanford-California game is correct he will tie the all-time record of 800; if it is wrong he will drop to 750. The Saturday games which tripped Ed were: Notre Dame-Northwestern; Cornell-Penn; Penn State-Pittsburgh and Florida-Georgia Tech. Ed came very close on several scores and almost hit the Wisconsin-Minnesota game on the nose when he said 20 to 12. He predicted a score of 18 to 7 for Iowa over Illinois and it turned out to be a 19 to 7 game. He hit the Rice score correctly with 14 points and the same on Creighton. After the final precincts are recorded, a summary of the past three years' results will be given.

SPECIAL BASKETBALL EDITION

Tomorrow this department will present its annual basketball feature page with schedules, pre-season dope and the "low-down" on Dixon and the neighborhood teams. Included in the survey will be stories from Amboy, Ashton, Belvidere, DeKalb, Dixon, Franklin Grove, Lee, Lee Center, Mendota, Morrison, Mt. Morris, Freeport, Sterling, Steward, Princeton, Paw Paw, Oregon, Ohio, West Brooklyn, Walnut, Rock Falls, Rochelle.

ALUMNI CAGERS TO PRACTICE

Coach Charles Rounly, who will pilot the alumni basketball team in the game with the high school here Friday night, has announced that the grads will practice tonight and Wednesday at the gymnasium at 7 o'clock.

GAME POSTPONED

The Knacks' basketball team which was to have played at Moline Y. M. C. A. next Tuesday night has postponed its game due to the Alumni practices and game here Friday night. Several of the Knacks players are members of the graduate team.

LEADING SCORER

Floyd Covill, graduate of Amboy high school, is the official leading scorer of the Illinois Intercollegiate conference. The plunging fullback of the championship State Normal grid machine, won top honors by a 12-point edger over his teammate, Tom Eddy, halfback.

HIGH KEGGLERS

Leading the Ladies' Bowling League with the highest average is P. Carson of Ray Carson's Service quintet with 151 in 30 games. Other high lassies include Klein of Kathryn Beard's with 150 in 27 games and Smith with 149 in 30 games.

TURNING PAGES THROUGH THE AGES

Dusting off the old volumes of The Telegraph it was discovered that 38 years ago on Turkey Day three Dixon football teams were in action. The Dixon College eleven defeated Mt. Morris there, 11 to 0 (odd score); the Dixon Athletics, managed by Charles E. Miller, lost to the Princeton Tigers (there), 33 to 0; and Dixon Union high school lost at Rochelle, 32 to 0.

OUT OF THE HAT

On Saturday morning 20 major football games were tossed into the hat and the "winners" drawn out by Jim O'Malley. The fates didn't do such a bad job on their predicting either, with 13 correct and six wrong. The Stanford-California game is still to be played. That gives the Fates a percentage of .68 which is about as well as some of us do with plenty of concentration.

Chicago, Nov. 25—(AP)—The Midwest, like every other section, has its lean years on the gridiron, but this definitely wasn't one of them.

The Western Conference alone has three teams which stack up favorably with any in the country by any yardstick. All three—Minnesota's champions, Michigan and Northwestern—undoubtedly could give and take with the best from any other section—such as Stanford, Tennessee, Texas Aggies or Boston College.

Minnesota proved its right to No. 1 ranking Saturday by crawling out from under a 13-point first quarter deficit to whip Wisconsin's spirited Badgers, 22 to 13, and complete the season without a loss in eight games. And just to emphasize the toughness of the Gophers' schedule, their six victims in the league included the teams finishing second, third, fourth, fifth and sixth. In addition, they whipped Washington, second best eleven on the west coast, and Nebraska, probable Big Six title winner.

Michigan lost only to Minnesota and Northwestern lost only to these other two midwestern powerhouses.

Cap Brilliant Campaign

The Wolverines capped a brilliant campaign with a 40 to 0 slaughter of an Ohio State team that was rated a fine chance at the start of the season to win a second straight title. Tommy Harmon played one of the greatest games of his career, scoring 22 points, passing for two touchdowns and again proving his right to real gridiron greatness. He scored three touchdowns, giving him 33 for three years of college play, two more than the immortal Harold "Red" Grange could amass in a similar period at Illinois.

Northwestern probably played its best game of the season in soundly thrashing Notre Dame, 20 to 0, with Juniors Don Clawson and Bill De Correvont taking the spotlight. The Irish thus lost two and won one game against Western Conference rivals, beating lowly Illinois and bowing to Iowa and the Wildcats.

The Hawkeyes managed to climb from the depths into a tie for sixth by defeating Illinois, 18 to 7, after the Illini had gained the jump on Eddie Anderson's so-so aggregation.

Indiana pushed Purdue into eighth place, only a game ahead of the Illini, when Gene White kicked a field goal shortly before the final gun for a 3-0 victory.

Sports Roundup

Washington, Nov. 25—(AP)—

Gentlemen, we're telling you. If there is a better football team in the country than Tennessee, we're willing to learn. They're big, fast, strong, deceptive, smartly coached and three deep. If you'll press him, Major Neyland will tell you he has trouble distinguishing between his first and second teams. (And, confidentially, the Vols prefer the Sugar Bowl). You'll see the Messrs. Francis Reagan and Paul Christman, those well-known footballers, coveting on one of the Yankee farms next season—in baseball uniforms. Well, anything can happen. Another Wojciechowski (this one's Frank) has bobbed up at St. Benedict's college (Atchison, Kan.) to give the printers fits.

KENNEL CLUB—Recent arrivals: Carl Snively, Frank Thomas, Bill Alexander, Elmer Layden. . . . Boy, and is that doghouse full of football big shots.

SHORT, SHORT STORIES—The Chicago papers received Jimmy Wilson with wide open arms. . . . Who did we bump into in Kentucky last week but Joe Louis. What was he doing? Buying saddle horses for his dude ranch. . . .

SATURDAY'S HEROES—Well, Mister Harmon went to town and so did Mister Reagan. We only hope that we're around when better backs are made again. . . .

THE COCKTAIL HOUR—Did you hear Bill Wood and "Suede" Larson play the Army-Navy game over the air last night? Pretty good. . . . Reform Dept.: Boots Poffenberger (you all remember him) was the most effective pitcher in the Southern Association last season—won 26 games and lost only nine. Old Boots will be back in the majors one of these days. . . .

TODAY'S GUEST STAR—Elliott Chaze, Lake Charles (La.) American-Press: "Reason Davey O'Brien is quitting football to become a G-man is because he figures any guy capable of finding a pass receiver with the Philadelphia Eagles is wasting his time."

PAID IN SALT

Salt was a needed commodity not easily obtained in early Roman days. Soldiers of the time drew, as part of their pay, an allowance for salt. This was called "salarium" and, in due season, the word became "salary" and meant fixed wages.

HELMET NOT NEW

In normal times, British firemen wear a helmet which is almost an exact copy of the headgear worn by Carthaginian soldiers 1500 years ago.

BOWL OPPONENTS BECOME INTEREST OF GRIDIRON FANS

Five Undefeated Teams Are Leading Elevens For Holiday Bid

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
New York, Nov. 23—(AP)—This week the football season gets down to when the main interest is trying to guess what teams will be chosen to play in the various bowl games January 1.

The leading Rose and Sugar Bowl candidates are the five "major" teams that still are undefeated and untied—Boston College, Tennessee, Texas A. & M., Stanford and Minnesota.

Minnesota finished its Western conference sweep by whipping Wisconsin, 22-13, after spotting the Badgers the first 13 points. The Gophers' chances of going to Pasadena depend upon favorable action by the conference faculty members at their meeting Dec. 6-7. While sentiment seems to be swinging in favor of such a game, that may be too late. Stanford, idle last week, winds up Saturday against its ancient rival, California, and the bowl invitation usually comes right after the final game.

Tennessee, victorious over Kentucky, 33-0, still has to dispose of Vanderbilt next Saturday, and Boston college, which walloped one strong Southeastern conference team, Auburn, 33-7, still has to get past Holy Cross. These assignments don't look especially hard for the Volunteers and the Eagles.

The Texas Aggies also have to go through the formality of clinching their second straight Southwest conference championship and completing an unbeaten season when they meet Texas Thursday. They were idle last week.

Unbeaten Season

LaFayette finished its unbeaten season by beating Leigh, 46-0. Hardin-Simmons, which plays at the Howard Payne Friday night, beat San Francisco university, 28-18; Mississippi State helped clear Tennessee's path to the Southeastern conference title by beating Mississippi, 19-0, to put the Rebels out of the running. Texas Tech had a week off in preparation for Saturday's clash with New Mexico, 13-12 conqueror of Arizona.

Surveying the status of other teams by sections, the situation is about this: East—After Boston college-Holy Cross, the colorful, tradition-laden Army-Navy game at Philadelphia is this week's only game of national interest with the Fordham-New York university and Duquesne-Carnegie as added attractions. Once-beaten Fordham and Duquesne both are candidates for second ranking in the section. The Dukes moved up by beating Villanova, 11-10, last week while Pittsburgh knocked Penn State out of the unbeaten-tied class with a 20-7 trouncing.

Top honors in the informal "Ivy League" go to Pennsylvania, 22-20 conqueror of Cornell.

Army Losses

Army took a 26-19 licking from Princeton, while Holy Cross tuned up for Boston college by beating Manhattan, 33-25. Nebraska, which virtually has clinched the Big Six title although it had a slight scare before it beat Iowa State, 21-12, may be another bowl candidate. The Huskers are showing some interest in Sugar Bowl feelers and this may increase if they're successful against Kansas State Saturday.

Tulsa, which won the Missouri Valley title for the fourth time by beating Oklahoma A. & M., 19-6, meets Arkansas Thursday.

South—Barring an upset victory by Vanderbilt over Tennessee, which would throw the race wide open, interest in the Southeastern conference centers on the Alabama-Mississippi State tussle for second place. Alabama outscored Vanderbilt, 25-21, last week to take third.

Intersectional Tussle

The annual Duke-Pittsburgh intersectional tussle is the high spot of the Southern conference program now that Clemson has won the championship with its 13-7 victory over Furman.

Southwest—The Texas Aggies can win the conference title by beating Texas but they can't lose it. Both Southern Methodist, 7-4 winner over Baylor in the mud, and Rice, 14-6 victor over Texas Christian, still have chances for a tie, depending on the outcome of their December 7 game.

Rocky Mountain—Utah won the Big Seven title when Denver and Colorado tied last Thursday.

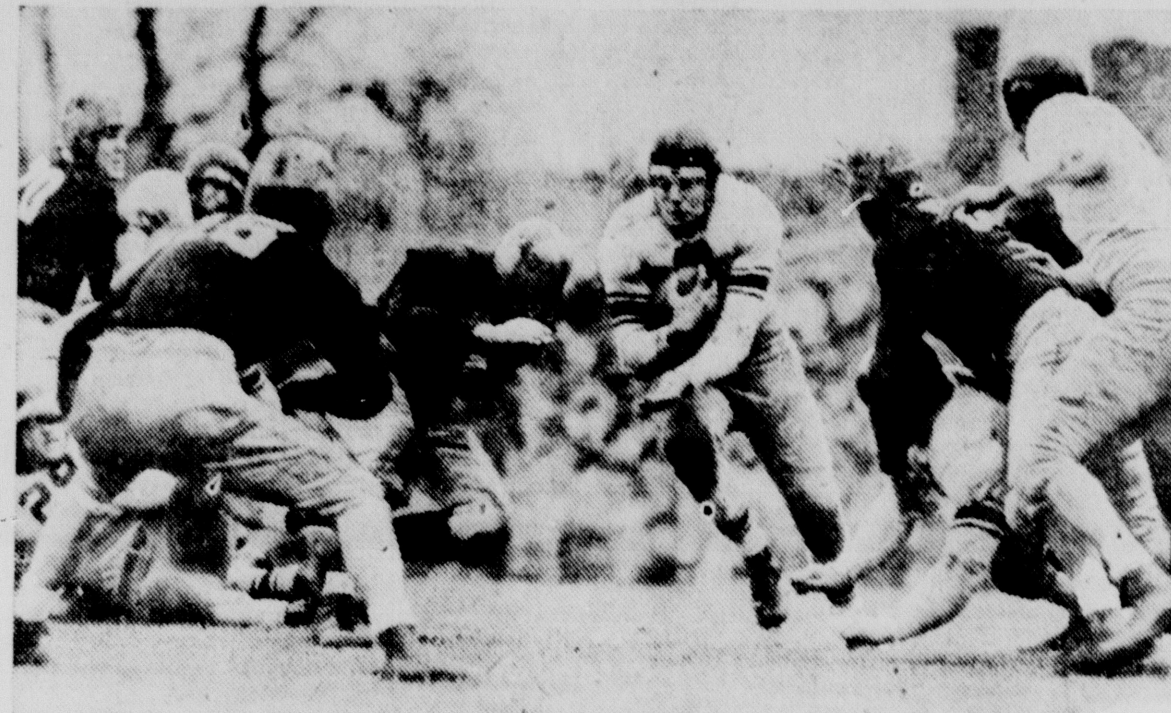

Pacific Coast—California might upset Stanford but that wouldn't keep the Indians from getting the Rose Bowl bid. Stanford already has beaten Washington, which then could tie for the conference title by beating Washington State. The Huskies gave U. S. L. A. its worst beating, 41-0, last week while Washington State edged out Gonzaga, 14-7.

HAIR CROPS

A Chicago scalp specialist states that the average person who reaches the age of 60 without becoming bald grows about 15 crops of hair, a new one every four years.

Dixon Reglers—men and women—

received some rough treatment in week-end matches and failed to come out with even a 50-50 break as they dropped four of seven matches with out-of-town foes.

On Saturday night at the Dixon Recreation, the local quintet representing the Daschbach establishment lost to Rockford Moose club, 2658 to 2446. Landstrom was high kegger for the winners with a 567 series and Ed Worley rolled 575 to lead the locals. High games included Worley's 227, Landstrom's 220 and a 203 by Diamond, also of Rockford.

Yesterday afternoon the Oregon All-Stars defeated the Dixon All-Stars here, 2699 to 2560. D. Allen of the visiting quintet counted 622 to lead the winners with games of 242-191-189. Becker rolled 574 for the Dixon aggregation's high count. High games included Becker's 202, Allen's 242, 210 by Woodrich of Oregon and 208 by Cleary of Oregon.

Bears Likely to Meet Redskins for Pro Grid Honors

By TOM SILER

Chicago, Nov. 25—(AP)—Barring an upset of the most startling variety the Chicago Bears and Washington Redskins will play for the National Professional football championship next month in the nation's capital.

Each has one victory to go to clinch a playoff berth, unless their closest pursuers lose a game. But the luck of the schedule pits the Bears against the Chicago Cardinals, western cellar team, in next Sunday's finale while the Redskins meet Philadelphia the same day. The Eagles have lost nine straight games.

The Bears warmed up yesterday for the important task ahead by stepping briskly through a track meet against Cleveland, winning 47 to 25. The Rams pushed across an early touchdown, but Chicago retaliated with four touchdowns and a field goal before Cleveland reached paydirt again.

A crowd of 46,439 was in New York's Polo Grounds to see the Giants hand the Redskins a 21 to 7 beating, and atop Washington's overhead game better than any other opponent. The Giants scored twice in the first period and again in the fourth on Tuffy Leeman's 36-yard dash. Sammy Baugh tossed to Ed Justice for the Redskins' tally in the third after justice had blocked a punt.

Green Bay Has Outside Chance

Green Bay, which still has an outside chance to tie for western honors, ran up a 50 to 7 decision on Detroit, largest total scored by the Packers in 21 years of league play. The defending champions amassed 30 points in three quarters and then humiliated the Lions with 20 more in the final period.

Brooklyn, which likewise has a mathematical chance to tie in the east, watched the Chicago Cards run up a 9-0 lead before Ace Parker went to work. The former Duke star tossed a 54-yard pass to Rhoten Shetley, then ran 18 yards to score. He sparked another long drive, passing 12 to Shetley and running 16 before hitting Perry Schwartz for a 25-yard gain and the decisive tally.

A long and heavy rain resulted in the Philadelphia-Pittsburgh game being postponed probably until Thursday.

This Week's Schedule

Thursday—Pittsburgh at Philadelphia.
Sunday—Brooklyn at New York.
Chicago Cardinals at Chicago Bears.
Philadelphia at Washington.
Green Bay at Cleveland.

Collegiates Line Up Today for 3rd Cross Country Run

East Lansing, Mich., Nov. 25—(AP)—Ninety-one runners representing 22 schools from as far east as Rhode Island state college and as far west as the University of Idaho lined up here today for the third annual National Collegiate Cross-Country championships.

Team and individual titles were at stake in one of the most grueling of all intercollegiate athletic competitions. The four-mile course is the same over which two previous meets were run.

One of the favorites, Ed Holderman of Purdue, who finished sixth last year, was withdrawn last night at the meeting of the National Collegiate Cross Country Coaches association.

A large field of promising runners, however, sought the championship won in 1939 by Walter Mehl of Wisconsin, who led the pack in 29:30.9 for a course and meet record in his senior year.

Favorites included Phil Leibowitz and Victor Dyrsgaard, Idaho; Wayne Tolliver and Edgar Hedges, Indiana; Bob Nichols and Charles Tingley, Rhode Island State; Tom Fields, Maryland; Gilbert Dods, Ashland; Earl Mitchell, Butler; Albert Mangan and Ralph Monroe, Michigan State; Tony Ma-

THREE BIG NINE LEADERS SWEEP MOST OF HONORS

George Paskvan, Badger Fullback, Wins in Tight Contest

Chicago, Nov. 25—(AP)—The big three of the Western Conference—Minnesota, Michigan and Northwestern—made almost a clean sweep of honors on the All-Star eleven picked for The Associated Press by the nine coaches.

Michigan's once-defeated Wolverines were given four first team spots, Northwestern three and undefeated, untied and title-winning Minnesota two positions. Twenty-three players from these three schools received votes for either the first or second teams.

Minnesota's George Franck came closest to being an unanimous selection. He received 17 of a possible 18 points, and polled votes for first team halfback, fullback and quarterback. Tommy Harmon, the Michigan terror, got 16 points, seven first team ballots and two for the second team.

The end positions went to Ed Frutig, Michigan, and Dave Rankin, Purdue, whose point total gave them a wide margin. Big Urban Olson of Minnesota and Alfred Bauman of Northwestern won the tackle spots. They were the only juniors on the honor eleven.

All-Star Guards

Joe Lokane, Northwestern, piled up a wide margin at one guard while Ralph Fritz, Michigan, barely nosed out Minnesota's Bill Kuusisto for the other berth.

Paul Hiemenz, 185-pounder, was voted the finest center in the league, giving Northwestern three of the seven first string line positions.

Rounding out the backfield were Michigan's stellar blocker and quarterback, Forest Evashevski, and George Paskvan, Wisconsin fullback.

The only repeaters from the 1939 first team were Harmon and Paskvan, two of three juniors on last year's eleven. The third eligible griddier for the 1940 all-star team was Ohio State's Don

State Funeral Is Planned by Japan for Old Statesman

Okitsu, Japan, Nov. 25—(AP)—Japan is preparing a state funeral for the last of her elder statesmen, 91-year-old Prince Kimmochi Saionji, who died yesterday after a lifetime which spanned the whole period of Japan's emergence from medieval insularity to rank as a modern power.

The funeral will be held December 5 in downtown Tokyo's Hibiya park, an 18-man committee headed by Premier Prince Fumumaro Konoye announced today. A government appropriation of 85,000 yen ($19,941) will pay the costs of the elaborate ceremony.

The state services will be the 11th for a Japanese notable since 1868 and the first since that of Admiral Marquis Heihachiro Togo in 1934.

Saionji, who had been ill since November 13, was the last of the Genro, that unofficial but influential body of statesmen standing between crown and cabinet.

With the sword of a young soldier and the deft policies of a seasoned statesman, Prince Kimmochi Saionji obtained for himself more than a half century of notice in the history of Japan, and maintained in a disturbed modern world the centuries-old traditions of his family.

The former heads of the noble Tokudaiji line, into which he was born in the ancient capital of Kyoto in October of 1849, all had been influential courtiers of the imperial court at Kyoto since the remotest period of the medieval history of Japan; their modern prince, however, was more than a courtier, but rather served his country as a military leader in his teens, as a statesman in the full flush of his life, and as an internationally known diplomat even as the hand of age began to lay upon him.

Kimmochi Saionji, who became a marquis after his adoption as the heir of the ancient Saionji family of nobles, was the younger brother of the late Prince Tokudaiji who had served the late Emperor Mutsuhito for forty years as lord chamberlain, and who is remembered for his loyalty to the throne. The junior brother quickly began to follow in Prince Tokudaiji's footsteps, and while still under twenty years of age, Saionji took part in the council of state at the time of the Meiji Restoration in 1867 when the mikado's supreme powers were restored after having been vested in with the shogunate for more than two and a half centuries. A shogun or general in command in the field had been appointed in 1603 by the emperor, but the shogunate until the revolution of 1867 exercised a de facto sovereignty in Japan, although in theory it was subordinate to the mikado.

Studied in France
Saionji had commanded the imperial forces against the retainers of the shogun, and on the subjugation of the revolt he was made governor of Niigata prefecture in northern Japan, but he held this post but for a short period, going to France in 1869 where he studied eleven years at the University of Paris.

On his return, however, he seemed to fit himself again into the point where he had left off, and from 1880 down to the time of the Conference of Paris after the World War he was a paramount figure in Japanese history. He headed the Japanese delegation to the Paris Conference, sitting in with Wilson, Clemenceau, Lloyd George and Orlando at the table where the Versailles treaty was drawn. In 1919 he was invested with the Grand Order of Merit, and in 1920 he was made a prince in recognition of his services to Japan.

Successively after his return from his Paris schooling he was newspaper publisher, junior senator, minister to Austria and Berlin, vice president of the House of Peers, member of the Privy Council, cabinet member and twice premier. The death in 1924 of Prince Masayoshi Matsukata left Saionji the sole survivor of the genro that body of elder statesmen who stood between the cabinet and the crown. The genro, though of no official status, were by reason of their former distinguished services invariably consulted in a crisis and had much to say in the creation and dissolution of ministries.

YERBA BUENA
Before it received its present name, San Francisco was called Yerba Buena, a Spanish name meaning "good herb." The name still clings to an island in the bay, connected to the mainland by the great Bay bridge.

WORLD'S MOTOR VEHICLES
Total world registration of motor vehicles last January was 44,515,137. The United States contributed 30,180,224 vehicles to that total.

FLYING ANIMALS
In Australia, there are at least 20 species of animals that are aviators—flying squirrels, flying opossums, flying mice, and even flying bears.

Loads of British postmen now are limited to 35 pounds, including their waterproof capes.

Dubuque Ruins Perfect Record of St. Ambrose

New York, Nov. 25—(AP)—The only perfect football record of the 1940 season was spoiled yesterday by the combination of mud and determined opposition as St. Ambrose College of Davenport, Ia., was held to a scoreless tie by its neighborhood rival, Loras of Dubuque. Otherwise the undefeated and untied teams came through the past week in good shape.

Up to yesterday, St. Ambrose had won eight straight games and had held its opponents scoreless. Fifteen other teams came through the week without a defeat or a tie to mar their records. Of these four had completed their regular seasons previously and only three others—Texas A. & M., Stanford and Pacific Lutheran—didn't have games scheduled during the past week.

Boston Still on Top
The mighty Boston College Eagles still head the group of five which have won nine games each. Boston College has run up 313 points to 52 for its opponents. Defensive honors go to a pair of Teachers' colleges, Springfield, Mo., which has allowed 114 points in nine games, and La Crosse, Wis., which has allowed nine in six games.

Viscount Craigavon, Ulster Premier, Dies

Belfast, Northern Ireland, Nov. 25—(AP)—The Duke of Abercorn, governor of northern Ireland, summoned to an audience today John Millar Andrews, 69, deputy prime minister, mentioned as the most likely successor to Prime Minister Viscount Craigavon, who died unexpectedly last night.

Lord Craigavon, first and only prime minister since the Ulster government was formed in 1921, was a bitter foe of proposals for union of Ireland (Eire) and northern Ireland (Ulster) and his death occurred as various rumors circulated of a proposal for a united Ireland in return for leasing Irish naval bases to Britain. Andrews also has opposed the union proposals and, although no suggestion has yet been made that Craigavon's death would alter the situation, some observers thought there might be a remote responsibility of a stronger move for unification.

Craigavon, 69, worked to the end although he had not been in good health.

Dies Report Results in Dismissal of Free Press Employee Today

Cincinnati, Nov. 25—(AP)—On the heels of a Dies committee report that an employee attempted to obtain for the paper free use of an alleged German propaganda service, the Cincinnati Free Press, German language daily, today announced his dismissal "due to un-American connections".

The Dies committee's "white paper" said that Ludwig Schmitt, employed as a translator, had written to K. Kapp, German consul at Cleveland, asking that Kapp use his influence on behalf of the paper with Trans-Ocean News Service, New York.

Albert Guise, president and publisher of the Free Press, said in an editorial prepared for page one display:

"In keeping with the masthead slogan of the Cincinnati Free Press, an American newspaper printed in the German language, the officers of the company this morning announced that due to un-American connections, Ludwig Schmitt no longer will be retained in the service of this newspaper x x x".

Wabash Charged With Giving Rosy Untrue Pictures

Washington, Nov. 25—(AP)—Senators Wheeler (D-Mont.) and Truman (D-Mo.) charged today that in 1930 when the Wabash Railway Company "was on the brink of receivership and financial collapse, it continued to paint on its books and in its published statements a rosy picture of corporate wealth".

The allegation was contained in a report of the Senate interstate commerce committee, which has had a sub-committee investigating railroads and railroad holding companies. The report was the latest in the series which the committee has released.

Wheeler and Truman, members of the sub-committee, asserted that the Wabash case demonstrated the need for legislation "to prevent repetition of abuses such as occurred in the management of this road".

"To the public, the Wabash in 1930 appeared to be in a strong position", the report said.

"In that year, the first of the depression, Wabash bonds were even placed on the New York 'legal list' of investments, thus making it possible for savings banks and fiduciaries entrusted with other people's money, including executors and trustees, to invest money entrusted to them in Wabash securities.

"Books Tailored"
The public was thus informed that Wabash securities were a 'safe' investment; but few investors can have realized the ways in which the Wabash tailored its books to meet the requirements of the New York 'legal list'.

"While false economies and income items, which were in fact no more than bookkeeping entries, were being set up on the books in such a way as to conceal the true state of affairs, the Wabash's actual income was not being husbanded.

"In the railroad's 'hour of strain', almost on the brink of receivership, Wabash directors ordered the payment of $3,700,000 in dividends; nearly half of these dividends went to the Pennsylvania railroad, which owned nearly 50 per cent of Wabash preferred stock. They also voted an extraordinary salary increase and bonus to the chairman of the road."

Captain of Philippine Scouts Court Martialed

Manila, Nov. 25—(AP)—Capt. Rufo Romero of the Philippine Scouts was convicted by a general court martial today of conspiring to sell military information and was sentenced to serve 15 years at hard labor in a military prison.

The West Point graduate, who offered to submit to a brain operation to erase from his memory any military information he might possess, was convicted as charged after the court martial heard briefly final summations of his case.

Romero denied he took maps from Fort McKinley with intent to sell them. Intelligence officers testified the maps were found locked in Captain Romero's automobile trunk. The captain said he had been working on them in his official capacity and had intended to return them to his office.

Dr. Knoll was next. He died today of a heart attack.

Gov. Elect Green Orders "Economy" in Inauguration

Chicago, Nov. 25—(AP)—The inaugural ceremonies attendant to the induction of Dwight H. Green as governor of Illinois, as ordered by the governor-elect himself, must avoid every possible item of expense.

The governor-elect said his request for a simple inaugural program was in line with his campaign pledges for economies in government. Members of the liaison and co-ordinating committees which Green selected to represent him in working with state officials on the inaugural plans, a spokesman said, will respect his wishes. His inauguration is scheduled for January 13 at Springfield.

Ferre C. Watkins, chairman of the liaison committee, said Green had "told us emphatically that he does not want his inauguration to be a great expense to the taxpayers. That was the chief reason he selected our committee."

No "Lavishness" Watkins said the ceremonies would be "in full keeping with the occasion, imparting solemnity and dignity," but they would not be "lavish."

"In these times when the public is bearing tax burdens almost beyond limit," Watkins said, "the new governor has asked us to help him begin his program of economy at the very moment he takes office. He regards his inauguration as the most auspicious time at which to start the elimination of every needless expense."

Green told the committee, Watkins said, that there must not be an expense to the taxpayers for the inaugural ball. Consequently, Watkins added, the ball will be sponsored by a group of citizens who will bear the expenses.

Adjutant Gen. Lee Boyle, who is officially in charge of the inauguration, will come here Thursday with members of his staff for a conference with Green and the liaison committee.

Dads Sock Will Be Filled to Top this Yule Season

Chicago, Nov. 25—(AP)—Santa Claus, whose incredible job of spanning the nation in a nocturnal setting will be completed a month from today, will stuff Dad's sock to overflowing this Christmas—with the largest toy bill in history.

A survey of the country's toy merchants disclosed today that the 1940 parental appropriation for childhood Yuletide joy was estimated at $330,000,000, approximately 10 per cent more than the nation's toy bill last Christmas.

This Christmas will be the nearest to an "All-American" the nation ever has had, dealers reported, because the war has taken the Christmas spirit out of Europe and has shut off the flow of fancy toys and trinkets from old world artisans.

A survey of exhibitors at the Merchandise Mart, a focal point for retailers' purchasing the past few months in preparation for the holiday trade, indicated that toy expenditures this year might be the greatest in history. Comparable figures for 1929 were not available, dealers said, comprehensive surveys of all the nation's 1,700 manufacturers of games, wheelgoods and decorations having been made only in recent years. Estimates of trade publications, manufacturers and distributors were included in this year's survey.

Merchandise Mart officials called their estimates conservative, inasmuch as some toy lines reported sales gains ranging from 20 to as much as 75 per cent. Domestic manufacturers have experienced greater sales increases this year than during any Christmas season for years due to the absence of ## Food Supply Inquiry Being Made by Gov't.

Washington, Nov. 25—(AP)—The justice department made the nation's food supply a subject of investigation today, with the two-fold objective of establishing whether present prices were fair to both consumer and producer.

Evidence existed, the department said, that "the food industries function badly for both consumers and farmers". If such is proved to be the case, lower food costs to consumer and increased farmer income should result.

The avowed purpose of the investigation, announced yesterday, was to eliminate any illegal monopolistic practices which might tend to control prices to consumers.

Paul S. Willis, president of the Associated Grocery Manufacturers of America, said last night at New York he was confident that "monopolistic practices would be found 'non-existent' among the representative members of our industry".

Short Equipment, Training of Ill. Artillery Slowed

El Paso, Texas, Nov. 25—(AP)—Shortage of equipment has delayed some training for the 202nd coast artillery (anti-aircraft) regiment from Chicago, but the artillerymen have been working day and night with the material at hand.

Lieut. Col. Edward A. McTamane, temporarily in command while Col. Charles C. Dawes is attending a service school, had to switch home of his training plans but said the regiment had lost no time. After more than a month of its year's federal training had passed, the regiment was fully equipped with three-inch anti-aircraft guns and fire control instruments, but had only three-fourths of the necessary searchlights. There are none of the 37-millimeter anti-aircraft guns yet for the automatic weapons company, and only one-third of the complement of 24 50-calibre machine guns.

As a result, the regiment has combined gun-sighting with sight-seeing in some of the training maneuvers. Col. McTamane outlined a field program that already had included trips to Carsbad Caverns, to the White Sands national monument, and to mountain resorts in New Mexico.

Soldiers See Country

"We have to make training trips anyway, so we might as well let the men see something of the country down here while we're about it," explained Major F. C. McConnell of the headquarters staff.

Half the regiment rumbled by motor convoy across the sand flats of westernmost Texas into New Mexico and northward to the great Carlsbad caves, where they bivouacked for the night and toured the caverns. The other half of the regiment meanwhile journeyed to the vast glistening gypsum beds lying west of the Sacramento mountains in New Mexico for a training jaunt that was at least part sight-seeing.

Many of the men are seeing the rugged southwest for the first time. They find it barren and strange, but alive with interest. Many of them capture horned frogs and send them home and some of the more reckless spend their spare time collecting rattlesnakes, tarantulas and trap-door spiders. They like El Paso's late autumn sunshine and the crisp, cool weather that characterizes the region at this time of year.

The regiment's training program also has been delayed somewhat by slowness in acquisition of a huge tract of land north of El Paso for field exercises.

Contractors were to have finished a cantonment with fairly comfortable quarters by November 15, but said a shortage of carpenters caused a delay. The regiment now is housed in wooden-floored tents. The new quarters will have wooden floors, wooden walls to a height of four feet, and tents erected on the walls to furnish ample head room. Mess Halls, showers and other central buildings will be of frame construction, and all quarters will be heated by natural gas.

The new cantonment is rising on the eastern slope of rugged Mount Franklin, the southernmost tip of the Rocky Mountains that rears its grey-toned peaks 7,000 feet above sea level almost into downtown El Paso.

At night the slim beams of anti-aircraft searchlights pencil above the mountain peaks, picking out "raiders" and giving El Pasoans a free fireworks show.

The strength of the regiment is now 60 officers and 1,400 men, but it is expected that conscripts from Illinois will raise the strength to 1,800 men by early in December, and 15 more officers will be assigned to the regiment.

Rumors have circulated in the regiment that it soon will be moved to March Field, California, for the remainder of the year of training.
